

T10/07-135r0 StatEye Tap defined

-----Original Message-----

From: Sanders Anthony (IFAG COM AC SE BBCPE)
Sent: Friday, March 02, 2007 6:08 AM
To: Newman Harvey (IFNA AIM ADS BDE)
Subject: RE: SAS committee question

Harvey,

the current 4.2.1 version of stateye using infinite precision taps, but with bounded limits. This can easily be extended to include a finite resolution.

Cheers,
Anthony

> -----Original Message-----

> From: Newman Harvey (IFNA AIM ADS BDE)
> Sent: Thursday, March 01, 2007 5:27 PM
> To: Sanders Anthony (IFAG COM AC SE BBCPE)
> Subject: SAS committee question

>

> Hi Anthony,

>

> In the SAS committee we have a question what assumptions are involved with a "tap"? Is it infinite precision for example.

>

> 3.) For the reference receiver, what does a "tap" mean with regards to > performance? StatEye has certain assumptions regarding this. Harvey Newman will discuss with the StatEye originator and try to provide a separate proposal that describes the tap performance assumptions.

>

> Regards,

>

> Harvey Newman

> New address after January 22, 2007

> 640 N. McCarthy Blvd, MS110

> Milpitas, CA 95035-5123

> New phone after January 22, 2007

> (408) 503-2506

>

>