Subject: Air Fares

At the last working groups the subject of increasing air fares has been discussed, and the suggestion made that "something be done about it."

Here goes with something: .

I have arranged with United and Northwest to provide ANSI attendees with reduced air fares for future meetings:

Attendees must book through the special meetings desk so have your travel agent call the 800 number below and mention the airline special number to get 40% off on full fare and 5% off on discount fares.

Why two airlines? Members of the Fiber Channel Working Group specifically asked for Northwest because it services Minneapolis and other mid-West cities better than the other airlines.

United	800-521-4041	ENDL	#413TA
Northwest	800-328-1111	ENDL	#15201

I provided both airlines with a list of all the presently scheduled meetings for HSC, Fiber Channel, SCSI and the CAM Committee. Travel is good for three days on either side of a meeting.

With airfares being the largest proportion of cost for attending meetings, all of us should benefit greatly from the airlines providing us with this service.

I would ask that all letters with information on meeting sites include the above information with every notice - I know I lose things all too easily, and appreciate such information on every mailing.

Yours sincerely,

I. Dal Allan
